The Sunshine Trail is a garden designed especially for the enjoyment of visitors with impaired vision. In 1,250 feet, it recreates a trip across California from west to east and includes water features, bridge's, native stone, and most importantly, native California plants especially selected to be explored by senses other than sight.

Use the “OLD” entrance on Micke Grove Rd. and turn to the RIGHT after the fee booth. (Though the new entrance will be open, it does not feed to the museum at this time).
